Beaten paths lead SHSers to familiar faces, routine

LEARNING HOW to use the library, sophomores Ronnie Jackson, Donna Elwonger, Marilyn Greenamyer, Marilyn Migliarini, Frank Barrett, and Steve Dimko take in one phase of English II as Miss Helen Thorp introduces them to the career corner.

IN THREE staggered 30-minute lunch periods hungry SHSers down nourishing noontime meals. Beside the standard 35-cent lunch the cafeteria offers ice cream, cookies, and fruit juice a la carte.

BATTLING FOR the ball, forward Bill Beery and Capt. Don Davidson fight with Junior Jones under the Wellsville hoop.

WITH AFTER-SCHOOL appetites as big as their pocketbooks Kay Talbot, Sandy Kay Wilt, and Donna Luttmers munch away in the Student Lounge, while Cheryl Phillips and Penny Silver hungrily eye Dave Schuster's potato chip.

SHUTTERBUGS John England, Clyde Miller, Gary Wyatt, and Dave Rice use the dark room off the physics lab to develop pictures for Photography Club.

varied interests, talents as we become well-rounded

WITH SOFT lights and cool music SHS's cafeteria was the site of several post-game and club dances.

"THEREFORE, I strongly support John F. Kennedy," says fiery Mary Pat Barrett as she defends the Democrats. In connection with the national election Salem High held its own mock election.

SEDULOUS SAXOPHONISTS Charleen Keller and Don Cope do their part for SHS's 64-member band. The group meets daily in the large, soundproof music wing to huff an' puff their way to harmony.

THERE ARE NO vacations for the men who run the show in Salem High. Ever-conscious of the needs of each SHS citizen are Supt. Paul Smith, Prin. Beman G. Ludwig, and Asst. Supt. Darryl Fadely.

The Board of Education consists of five interested citizens who devote many hours to the financing and betterment of Salem schools. Placing a renewal levy on the ballot and approving a college reading course for seniors highlighted this year's agenda.

Setting new grading standards, instituting a WSOM radio program to keep the problems and accomplishments of the school system in the public eye, and working constantly to broaden educational opportunities for Salem youth, Supt. Paul E. Smith is completing his second year as chief administrator of Salem schools.

Mr. Darryl Fadely, assistant superintendent, sees to the maintenance of the buildings and grounds and attempts to keep the demand of increasing costs within the appropriation.

Prin. Beman Ludwig, an organization expert, attends to thousands of important administrative details, confers with students and teachers, and serves as the main cog in the wheel of SHS life.

Finances Pose

Recent additions to SHS's guidance department, both Mrs. F. E. Cope and Mr. Leroy Hoskins handled their jobs like veterans. Coming into close contact with students, they manifested their interest in and understanding of them by doing everything from helping acquire scholarships to doling advice to the lovelorn.

Offering quite a change from her 18 years as a biology teacher, Mrs. Cope's duties now include interpreting of test results, interviewing seniors, and counseling girls. From her experience as Y-Teens adviser she has learned to know almost every SHS girl by name. She took over the tasks of Girls' Guidance Counselor last fall upon the death of Miss Ala Zimmerman.

Aside from his job as Boys' Guidance Counselor, Mr. Hoskins also advises the Student Council. On his agenda were the administering of scholarship and aptitude tests, helping boys adjust, and aiding them in selecting prospective careers.

Problems; Board Seeks Tax Renewal

BOYS' GUIDANCE COUNSELOR LeRoy Hoskins helps senior Bill Mull shape up his plans for the future. Mr. Hoskins' wise suggestions lead many boys to jobs, college acceptances, scholarships, or simply straight thinking.

ASIDE FROM her other new duties Girls' Guidance Counselor Mrs. Doris Cope talked to each senior girl individually to offer help and advice on post-high school days. Here she shows Darbie Harris a college catalogue.

SHSers Learn Self-expression in English,

AFTER-SCHOOL duties of Supervisor of Music Howard Pardee include French horn lessons for sophomore Lynne Miller.

SHS students of creative ability are given the opportunity to express themselves in the English, music, and art departments.

Literature and grammar are alternated in the three required years of English. Information booklets were made by sophomores interested in attending college, and speech preparation was introduced in some English III classes.

The study of English literature and written projects kept first-semester English IV students busy. The second semester offered a course in advanced grammar and composition for college-bound seniors, while business English was given to commercial majors. Spelling was stressed for juniors and seniors. Comprehension, speed, and vocabulary skills were increased by sophomores and seniors in developmental reading classes.

Night rehearsals supplemented daily practice sessions of the band and chorus as they prepared for concerts, contests, and music festivals. Soloists and ensembles put in many harmonious hours in the sound-proof practice rooms in the music wing.

In collaboration with various school groups, the art classes added decorating chores to their already busy schedule of painting, drawing, sculpturing, and designing. Advanced students tried their hands at oil painting.

SENIOR ENGLISH teacher Mrs. Esther Talbott lowers the drawbridge and raises the grade as she inspects Duane McClaskey's tower-bedecked castle, his project during the study of the Elizabethan Period.

WOULD-BE-REMBRANDTS George Lozier and Dick Huber thrive in the artists' haven of room 183. Mr. Cummings' art classes experimented with oil paints, mosaics, and clay and wire sculpture this year.

PROBLEMATIC perpendiculars puzzle senior solid studes De Smith, Dave Griffiths, Gail Gottschling, Tony Chitea, and Polly Begalla in their struggle to prove one of the geometrical theorems to be used in problem-solving.

Laws of Universe Intrigue Mathematicians,

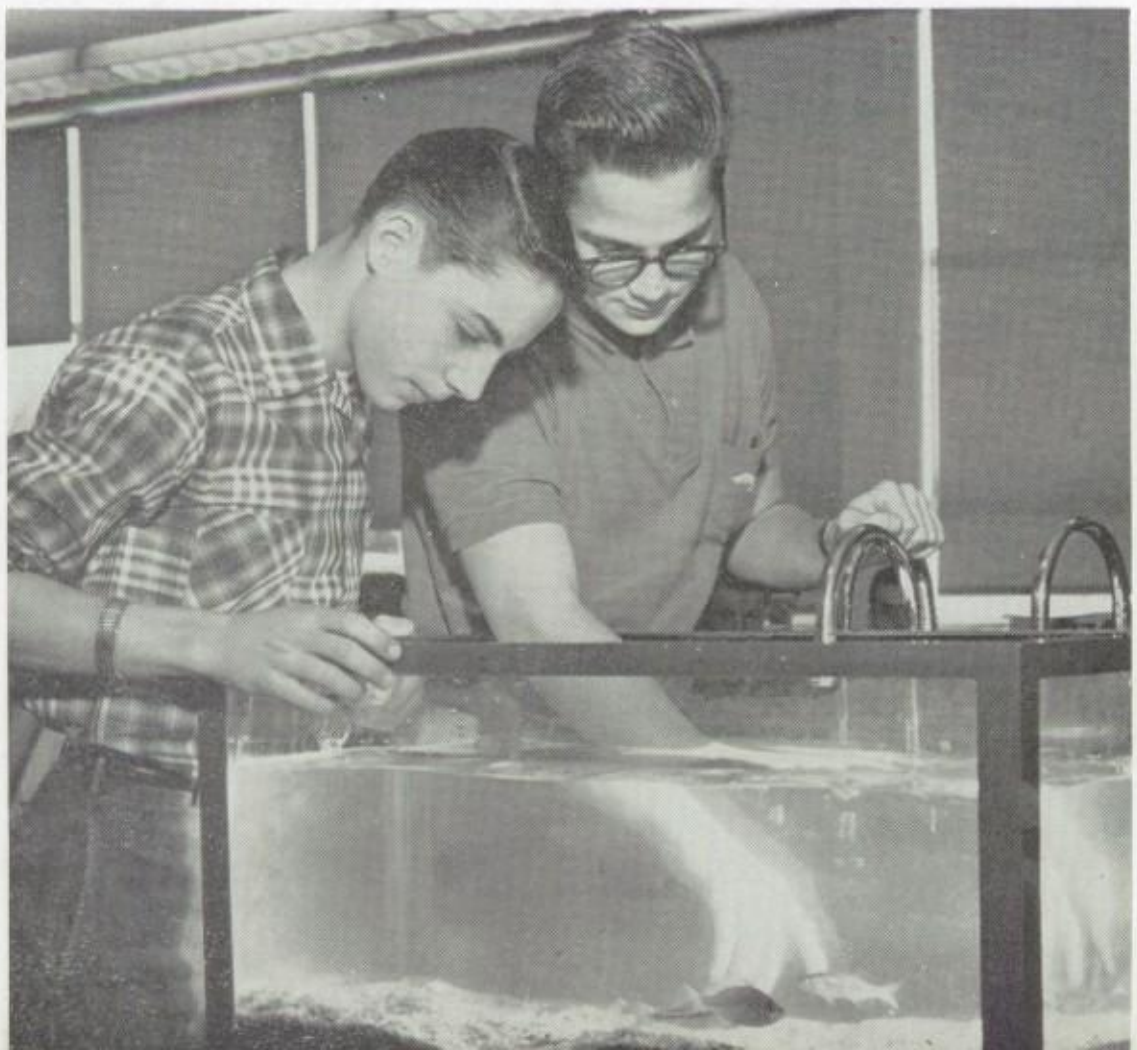
Salem High's curriculum emphasizes the fields of math and science in an attempt to keep up with the modern, ever-changing world.

Algebra I and II, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry constitute the math studies. These subjects require logical thinking and accuracy on the students' part.

In the science department SHS offers biology, chemistry, physics, and health. Biology students get the "inside story" as they dissect various specimens and experiment with mutations.

Learning the composition of matter and the reason for actions and reactions, junior chemistry students and senior physicists learn just what makes the world what it is. The health course offers a section on personal adjustment in addition to a thorough study of the human body.

With the knowledge these courses offer SHS graduates understand more fully themselves and the world around them.



"WHAT BIG EYES you have!" thinks the fish, as soph biologists Darryl Everett and Lanny Broomall curiously invade his home, sweet home in the lab.

World Problems Challenge Linguists,

The study of languages and world happenings helps Salem High students prepare for their future. They become familiar with changing conditions and learn how to meet them.

Taped recordings and illustrated foreign magazines aided linguists in improving pronunciation and understanding of their elected languages—French, German, Latin, or Spanish.

SHS's first class in problems of democracy, a senior subject, studied national problems and how to solve them in the democratic tradition. The social studies department also offers psychology, economics, international relations, geography, U. S. history and government, and world history.

UP-TO-DATE equipment to match the modern school enables SHS typists to master the skill with ease. With time-saving adding machines, dictaphones, and electric typewriters secretarial students get in practice for work in an office after high school.

Offer Commercial, Vocational Training

SHS's curriculum offers well-rounded courses of study for commercial and vocational students.

Typing, shorthand, and office training prepare students for secretarial work, while bookkeeping pupils learn to keep accurate journals, record receipts and payments.

Home economics teaches the basic homemaking skills. Newly added Home Ec IV deals mainly with advanced sewing and preparation of dinners.

Distributive education seniors take required subjects in the morning and get working experience in the afternoons as part-time employees in various types of merchandising establishments.

In the far-off wing of hammers and buzz saws boys take mechanical drawing as a prerequisite for wood and metal industries. Beginning this year wood classes supplement lab work with a textbook which teaches principles of carpentry, fundamentals of woodwork, and use of machines.

Developing manipulative abilities in preparation for vocations, the metal classes learn to operate modern machinery for use in industry. They also make articles from castings, including many useful things ranging from ash trays to yard lights.

Express Individuality through Hobbies

Miss Ala Zimmerman

On November 6 Miss Ala Zimmerman passed away, leaving Salem High School and the work she so loved. In her 20 years as dean of girls in Salem she advised and inspired hundreds of girls to make the right decisions, whether about college, occupation, or boyfriend.

Her sincere interest in other people was manifested as she wrote countless scholarship recommendations, helped girls iron out personal and school problems, and actively served her community.

An important influence in the lives of many, her memory will be a continuing inspiration.

Snappy Bandsmen Climax Year with

Despite chill winds the SHS marching bandsmen came forth to enliven halftime festivities of the fall football games. At the close of pigskin season Maestro Richard Howenstine placed the strutters in the hands of Director Howard Pardee, who worked to make them concert bandsmen.

As various festivals came into view selected instrumentalists traveled to the appointed towns. The annual All-County Festival took place in East Liverpool in February, while two other fests were held in Carrollton and Canal Fulton.

In spring the musicians proudly hosted a festival with 10 visiting bands performing individual concerts throughout the day. The event was highlighted by a parade of all participants showing their skill as a unit.

Contestants in the March solo-ensemble contest in Canton were rewarded with high ratings for their practice and anxiety. With superior ratings four soloists and two ensembles went on to the state contest the next month.

Jaunting to Columbus for a day, the bandsmen viewed the Ohio State marching band in pre-game warm-ups and their halftime performance. Funds for this and other expenses were supplied when loyal instrumentalists collected a sum of $790 on Tag Day.

The hours of rehearsals, both in class and on Wednesday evenings, led the way to two assemblies and a program given at Prospect School. Public performances included the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Singing, selling, and satisfying, the Robed Chorus spent a tuneful year under the direction of Mr. F. Edwin Miller.

Garbed in red and black, the 77-voice group presented their annual Christmas Vespers before a standing-room-only crowd. Portions of the concert were sung for the student body, the Kiwanians, and the Senior Citizens.

East Liverpool played host to the 1961 All-County Music Festival, directed by renowned conductor-composer Merrill Staton of New York City. Karen Greenisen accompanied the fest, which was attended by all Robed Chorus seniors and a few selected juniors.

Nine choristers selected to take part in the District VIII Music Festival in Carrollton were Fred Flory, Joe Galchick, Ruth Kekel, Judy Menning, Jim McNeal, Dorothy Spack, Randy Strader, John Townsend, and Theresa Viola.

Transportation funds needed through the year were provided by the Tag Day collection, the fall magazine drive, and the candy sale. Despite drippy weather the hard-working songsters topped last year's Tag Day profits with a total of $450.89. For her efforts in the magazine drive senior Dorothy Spack was awarded an Elgin watch.

Springtime meant jaunts to various contests and preparation for the Spring Concert. A superior rating at the district contest paved the way to a state superior at Zanesville. At the traditional Spring Concert the Chorister of the Year, elected by the chorus members, was honored.

Songsters Develop Tonal Technique

"Sit up straight, feet flat on the floor, sing from your diaphragm!" instructed choral director F. E. Miller this year, as he drilled the Girls' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus on a series of developmental scales. After months of preparation the songsters took their parts in the Christmas and Spring Concerts and a school assembly.

Accompanying the girls' group was Linda Crawford, while Ruth Ann Bennett served as pianist for the Mixed Chorus. Judged on their ability, interest, service, and progress, the choristers will now be screened by Mr. Miller for membership in the Robed Choir, the largest and most select chorus in the vocal department.

Spaniards Go Modern, Throw Record Hop

Los Conquistadores, "the conquerors" of the Spanish language at SHS, enriched their knowledge of Spain and Mexico through their bi-weekly after-school get-togethers.

A modern touch was added this year when the Spaniards sponsored a WHLO record hop instead of their traditional "fiesta." Profits from this, along with money earned at the refreshment stand at the Dayton Roosevelt basketball game, expanded their treasury, enabling them to purchase a gift for future Spanish classes.

Both Spanish II students and those who have maintained at least a B average in Spanish I are eligible for membership.

Mr. Anthony Monteleone advises the group.

SPOTTING THE LAND of the Spanish tongue on the map, Spanish Club President Tony Chitea points it out to Polly Schmid, secretary; Fred Flory, vice-president; and Mary Lou Earley, treasurer.

SC OFFICERS — Treas. Lorraine Pardee, Pres. Ken Pinkerton, Vice-pres. Bob Eskay, Parl. Brenda Smith, Sec. Joyce Mallery.

HELLE GADE JENSEN sailed across the Atlantic from her home in Skagen, Denmark, to be SHS's first exchange student. Bag, baggage, and pony tail, she moved into the home of Dr. Donald Lease.

ASIDE FROM her constant round of speeches and public appearances Helle taught German to fifth- and sixth-graders after school each day. She also maintained honor grades in all her studies.

Exchange Student

With officers elected by the total student body for the first time, the 37-member Student Council commenced a year full to the brim with activity.

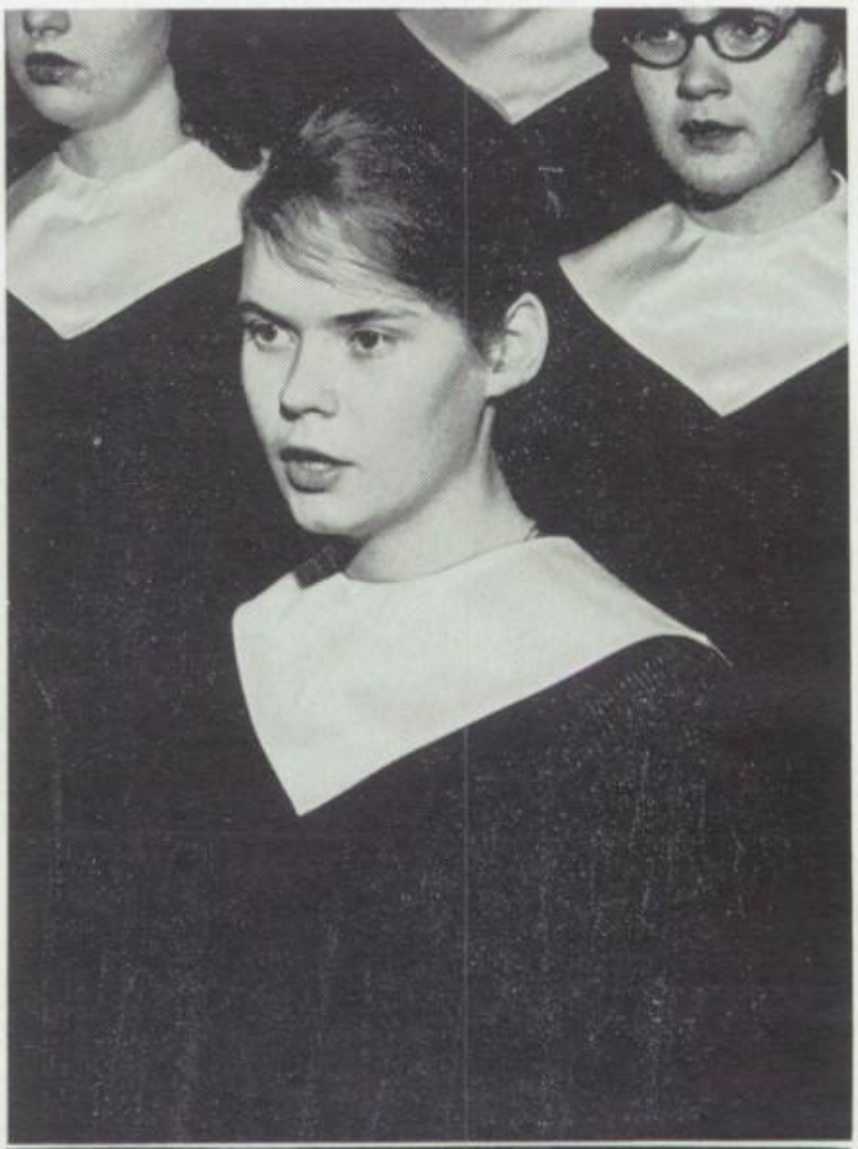
Projecting SHSers' thoughts to the future and giving them adult responsibilities, the council sponsored the annual Vocations Day and Student Teachers' Day in the fall.

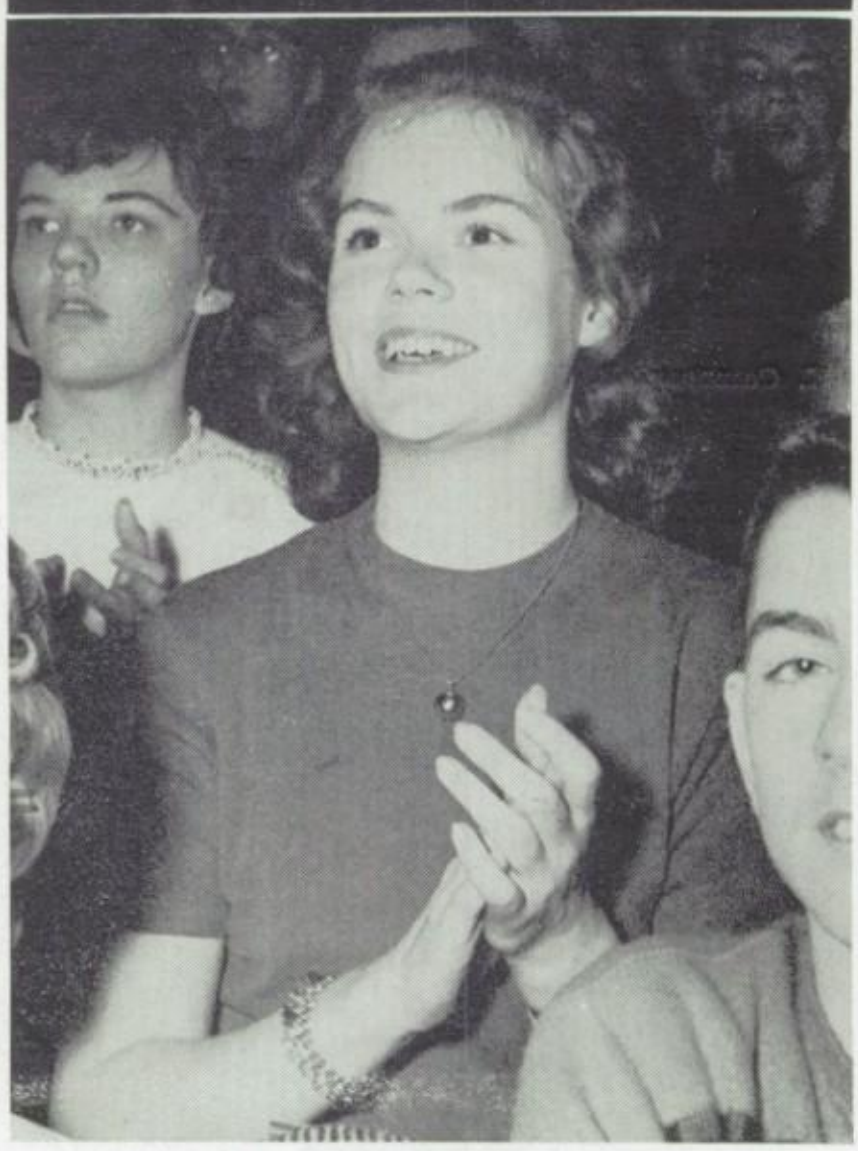
A special member of the organization this year was Helle Gade Jensen from Denmark, SHS's first American Field Service student. Hoping to raise enough money to sponsor a second exchange student, Chairman Nancy Ward and her committee launched the SC tax stamp drive after Christmas.

Plans for sending a Salem student to Europe for the summer were discussed. The council hopes to make a two-way exchange program a tradition.

Bringing the year to a close, SC honored SHSers of high scholastic ability at the second annual scholarship banquet in June.

Adviser is Guidance Counselor LeRoy Hoskins.





BRIGHT-EYED and gracious, Helle was a member of Robed Chorus. Her congenial personality and quick adoption of American ways won the hearts of all, and she was elected Basketball Sweetheart.

BALANCING THE BOOKS are Hi-Tri officers Karen Trombitas, president; Sally Shears, secretary; Halle Goard, vice-president; and Ruth McCormick, treasurer. Hi-Tri used its funds to provide food for needy families.

"Hi-Tri means strength—the strength of will, of hope, of purpose, of truth, and of love."

With these words 27 junior girls were presented with symbolic triangular pins and Hi-Tri honor society sailed into its busy year.

With tea cups and smiles the gals served as hostesses after the traditional Hi-Tri-Student Council-sponsored Vocations Day in November.

Cramming baskets full of food, toys, and clothing for needy families, they showed their good will at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

In April the gals dusted off their sales approach and sold Quaker-head necklaces, bracelets, and tie pins.

At the annual spring Mother-Daughter banquet new officers were installed, bringing the year to a close.

Advisers are commercial teacher Miss Claribel Bickel and English teacher Mrs. Frank Tarr.

Key Club Serves City, Initiates Benefit

In its second year of organization Kiwanis-sponsored Key Club kept on the move. With brushes and cans of red and black paint the boys refurbished king-size Sam, the Quaker Man.

Civic-minded Keys canvassed for the Heart Fund, collecting about $100, encouraged Salemites to vote in November, and helped in the city cleanup campaign. Separating the men from the boys, the group sponsored a benefit Faculty vs. Key Club basketball game.

Money-wise the 27 boys vended refreshments at the Kennedy rally, worked at a basketball stand, had a basketball tipoff dance, and sold tickets for the Kiwanis Kapers.

Columbus was Pres. De Smith's destination when he traveled to the State Key Club Convention in March. In July several delegates will attend the international convention in Philadelphia.

Mr. Frank Tarr is Key Club adviser.

TREAS. TONY CHITEA, Chaplain Dave Gotthardt, Sec. Bob Oswald, Vice-pres. Fred Stockman, and Pres. De Smith contemplate surrendering the fur-lined trophy to E. Liverpool, winner of the '60 grid fray.

Formaldeaides Visit Flower Show, Museum

With a record membership of 42 juniors and seniors, Formaldeaides filled every inch of room 174 at their bi-weekly meetings. The increased enrollment made it necessary for the group to revise the constitution.

Junior officers were elected in February to officiate for the rest of the school year and thus have experience at their jobs in the fall.

Funds from the refreshment stand made possible the group's jaunt to the flower show and health museum in Cleveland in March.

Formaldeaides is made up of biology and chemistry aides and students who attain an honor average in biology and are interested in science. Biology teacher Mr. John Olloman advises the club.

PAMPERING THEIR "children" in the greenhouse are green-thumbed Formaldeaides officers Sydney Johnson, secretary; Polly Schmid, treasurer; Donna Safreed, vice president; and Paul Leach, president.

SLIDE RULE CLUB Pres. Phil Greenisen soaks up some know-how about operating the mathematician's tool as Vice-pres. Dick Huber demonstrates for Sec.-treas. Karen Trombitas on the king-size rule.

Senior Math Studes Imitate Aristotle

Led by their adviser Miss Martha McCready, SHS mathematicians waded through a maze of digit counts, scales, and problems to the mastery of the ingenious device called the slide rule.

On alternate Tuesdays after school these amateur Aristotles found their way to quicker and easier ways of squaring, taking roots, multiplying, and dividing. In an accuracy contest at the Christmas meeting Paul Jay Leach emerged the winner and was rewarded with a giant-size candy cane.

With profits from the basketball stand and each member's dues the group purchased a gift for the math department, thus leaving their contribution to higher learning in SHS.

Pep Club Stages Spirit-boosting Bonfires

Bonfires and assemblies kept Pep Club hopping and Quaker spunk high. Feminine footballers and masculine cheerleaders were featured in three spirit-boosting assemblies.

The club co-sponsored a dance honoring the Basketball Sweetheart and her court, financing their activities through the sale of beanies.

SEC. SUSAN FISHER, Treas. Donna Safreed, Vicepres. Sandy Lee Wilt, and Pres. Dawn Kloos led Pep Club through the year. With shakers, beanies, posters they kept Quaker spirit high.

PEP CLUB — Bottom Row: Penny Jo Hess, Flory, Nyktas, Pincombe, J. Ward, Weirick, Moushey, C. Fleischer, Kilmer, Kolozsi. Second Row: K. Luce, Knoll, Spack, D. GAA Vends to Finance New York Trip

Sandwiched between GAA's rousing sports sessions were dreams of a summer trip to New York.

Meeting twice monthly for business the girls planned their doings and counted their pennies, hoping for a sizable enough treasury to send them to the Big City. A February record hop and the selling of sweatshirts, Christmas cards, and pajama bags helped their bank account grow.

In December the group packed a basket for a needy family.

At the weekly activity meets after school the 26 gals took pointers from adviser Miss Betty McKenna on speedball, basketball, volleyball, and archery. They also formed a bowling league, in the spring. In April they joined sports-minded girls from the area for a play day in Lisbon.

PROUD OF their profits, GAA Sec. Vera Wilson, Vice-pres. Polly Begalla, and Pres. Frances Ansman display some of their sales items. The group netted almost $400. Absent is Treas. Karen Pauline.

Y-Teens Tour College Campuses

Fun and fellowship combined as SHS's Y-Teens toured college campuses, had a World Fellowship tea, and sponsored post-game dances together. Funds from the three clubs' treasuries provided for new flooring in the Y.

The highlight of the sophomores' programming consisted of a series of college tours through Ohio and Pennsylvania, in which the girls viewed campuses and talked with admissions officers. An armchair trip to Alaska in the form of a movie was a February activity. Their treasury mounted as they sold basketball programs and tended the coat check. Soph officers were Kay Koontz, president; Peggy Gross, vice-president; Peggy Meissner, secretary; Diane Scullion, treasurer; and Nonnie Schwartz, program chairman.

The junior gals emerged groggy from their sleepless slumber-pizza party at the Y in the spring. They sampled cool multi-flavored refreshments at their first ice cream social. Officers were Nancy Ward, president; Lonna Muntz, vice-president; Dana Goard, secretary; Sue Fisher, treasurer; and Sue Mathews, program chairman.

Make-up demonstrations and a charm series gave many helpful hints to senior Y-Teens. A Caesarian section was the subject of a film they saw in the fall, narrated by Dr. Richard McConnor. At the college-girl tea they got the lowdown on finals and campus life. President Linda Nestor attended the planning committee meeting in Mansfield for the 1961 summer conference. Other officers were Linda Stoddard, vice-president; Sandy Ellis, secretary; Polly Begalla, treasurer; and Polly Schmid and Joyce Whitcomb, program chairmen.

Advisers are Mrs. Doris Cope, Mrs. Alice Gross and Mrs. Ida Meissner.

'Helping Hearts' Fill Community Chest

JRC OFFICERS Paulette Severs, president; Chip Perrault, secretary; and Brenda Smith, vice-president, post the symbol of their organization in preparation for the annual Red Cross drive.

With red feathers and helping hearts newly elected Junior Red Cross members started the year by boosting the funds of the Community Chest to the tune of $45.68. Collected by homeroom representatives, the amount was turned over to the senior Red Cross.

Easter baskets of canned and packaged goods were filled and donated to the Salvation Army for distribution in April.

Traveling to Miami U. elected delegates will learn the ropes of Red Cross work at a week-long conference this summer.

Mrs. Helen Mulbach advises the organization.

"In the pink" with fun and entertainment were SHS members of the Association this year. Pink tickets were the keys to all home football and basketball games, track meets, and the Quaker newspaper and yearbook.

Fun-filled evenings of dancing, games, and eating were provided for members at the annual All-class and Association parties. Vic Hyde, the one-man band, performed at the assembly in January. Equally interesting was Association-sponsored Burt Shurtleff author, who talked about writing.

Eighty per cent of the total school enrollment belonged to the organization, with homeroom 202 out in front in the membership drive.

Business adviser is Mr. Fred Burchfield.

Aides, Monitors, Librarians Find Pleasure

BIOLOGY AIDES

Selected because of their continued interest in biology, high grades, dependability and personality by biology teachers Mrs. Doris Cope and Mr. John Olloman, the year's crew of biology aides carried out a multitude of tasks.

Assisting squeamish sophs, keeping the greenhouse spic and span, lending helping hands with dissections, and babying expensive equipment were some of the varied duties of these former biology students.

LIBRARIANS

As one enters SHS's attractive library, evidences of the work of the 22 student librarians are apparent on all sides. Duties of these girls include helping students find books, placing new volumes in attractive covers, arranging bulletin board displays, dusting, charging materials and writing overdue notices. With Miss Lois Lehman, faculty librarian, the student helping hands are custodians of over 5,000 volumes and many periodicals and pamphlets that comprise the library.

MONITORS

Scurrying from one end of this big building to the other, delivering messages, running errands, collecting attendance slips, escorting forgetful pupils to far-off lockers and greeting visitors were all in a day's work for the handy monitors. They were chosen last year by former Guidance Counselor Ala Zimmerman and Prin. Beman Ludwig and devoted a period daily to these assorted tasks.

ALGEBRA AIDES

Something new has been added to SHS this year — algebra aides. These efficient students did everything from teaching algebra class to grading test papers, after first floundering through the tests themselves. Ever-ready during study periods, they aided flustered juniors in bringing their problems and checks into balance.

At the same time they kept their own knowledge of algebra in good working order. They were selected on the basis of high grades, personality and algebraic aptitude by Miss Martha McCready.

Large, eye-catching ads in the Quaker were the result of the labors of business managers Sue Bair and Marlene Binder and their staff.

Meeting in the Quaker Office each noon they dreamed up a sales pitch, counted inches, and set up ad layouts for the annual and bi-weekly.

Given the task of bringing home the bacon, Quaker admen scoured Salem for merchants who would advertise in the Quaker publications. Their job was to convince businessmen that an ad would be a wise investment. But this was only half the job; collecting the bills was the rest. So once again the hardy salesmen tramped the streets of Salem.

DE Students Are Johnny-on-the-Job

Developing sales ability and pleasant personalities, DE members spent their afternoons in Salem stores gaining on-the-job experience after completing their required morning classes.

Activities, both educational and enjoyable, which were planned in September by the club and their adviser Mr. Stephen Lucas, included traveling to Akron for the District DE Conference and a field trip and to the State DE Convention in Columbus. Decorating Santa's house kept the club occupied during the Christmas season.

Citizenship, school record, class and club participation and job performance were all taken into consideration as the club selected the DE Student of the Year in June. Profits from a bake sale, Quaker Sam stickers, and the refreshment stand at the basketball game helped to finance their trips and the employer-employee banquet, which concluded the school year.

Deadline Pressures Quaker Staff

"THE SHOW MUST go on!" could well have been the motto of editors Gail Gottschling, Nancy Tarleton and Jay Albright as they inevitably came through with the bi-weekly QUAKER.

Clanking of typewriters putting the news in print and the ticking of the clock as deadline time approached echoed from the Quaker Office this year, constantly announcing that the Quaker bi-weekly was on its way.

Writing and rewriting articles, measuring and maneuvering copy, cropping pictures and proofreading, all contributed to the headaches of the three editors, but a 14th All-American effected a quick cure.

Three six-page issues went to press, giving broader coverage of school events than the 12 standard four-pagers. Christmastime meant Quakers decked in red.

The 27-member staff produced timely articles on "all the news that's fit to print," instructive or amusing feature items, and highlights of the sports seasons. Letters-to-the-editor enabled the student body to air its various suggestions and opinions through the publication.

Editors Dream Up Artistic Yearbook

Twelve months ago Lorraine Pardee and Karen Trombitas began plotting and planning, dreaming and designing a yearbook to capture the spirit of 1960-61 at SHS.

After a week's summer training at journalism workshops they started putting their ideas in black and white on 12- by 17-inch dummy pages. Their duties ranged from artistically arranging pictures and copy blocks to playing apprentice to the photographer.

With praise and criticism from adviser Mrs. Ruth Loop they watched their book develop, page by page, day by day. Eleven assistants drew panels and layouts and pasted pictures, while the writing staff supplied appropriate copy.

As deadlines neared, the editors and staff worked a little faster and a little later each night, never forgetting the standards of accuracy and good taste. Then, bursting with secrets, excitement, and hopes for approval, Lorraine and Karen presented the Quaker story of the year to their classmates and posterity.

Varsity Mortonmen Cop Record Nine-Win,

Third in Salem pigskin history to compile a nine-win, one-loss slate, SHS's varsity football squad fought their way through a 10-opponent season.

September 9 saw the Quakers down a rugged Akron Hoban eleven 7-0 in the long-awaited season opener. The lone goal came in the first quarter when Salem marched down the field in 15 plays to score. The line was the deciding factor, as the backfield was rendered impotent.

A week later Ron Janovec chalked up all the Quaker tallies as the entire backfield improved 100 per cent to spell defeat over Leetonia's Bears.

Putting forth their best for their first out-of-town venture, the Mortonmen sloshed through the heavy mud to whitewash the heavier but slower Ravenna Raven squad 43-0. Speedy Salem backs came through as they ruined any possibility of a Raven victory.

The most highly contested game of the season before kick-off time became even more hotly contested at the opening whistle, as the Farrell, Pa., Nightriders came to town.

The Quakertown eleven wanted and gained revenge for last year's drubbing at the hands of another out-of-state squad, the Ambridge Bridgers. Trailing 6-0 through most of the contest, the locals finally crossed the goal stripe on a 30-yard pass from Gary Devan to Don Davidson. With a tie hanging in the balance Rick Sulea kicked the point-after-touchdown with only 49 seconds remaining on the clock.

In an oddity for a high school contest Sulea surprised the Quaker followers with a 26-yard field goal as Reilly Field hosted Wellsville.

Playing in the rain for the fifth time this year, the locals dropped a close one to East Liverpool's Potters on the Salem gridiron 8-6 in a battle of All-Staters. Quaker end Don Davidson copped All-Ohio first team in both pigskin and roundball, while the cross-county rivals' Ken Cunningham acquired similar dual-sport merits.

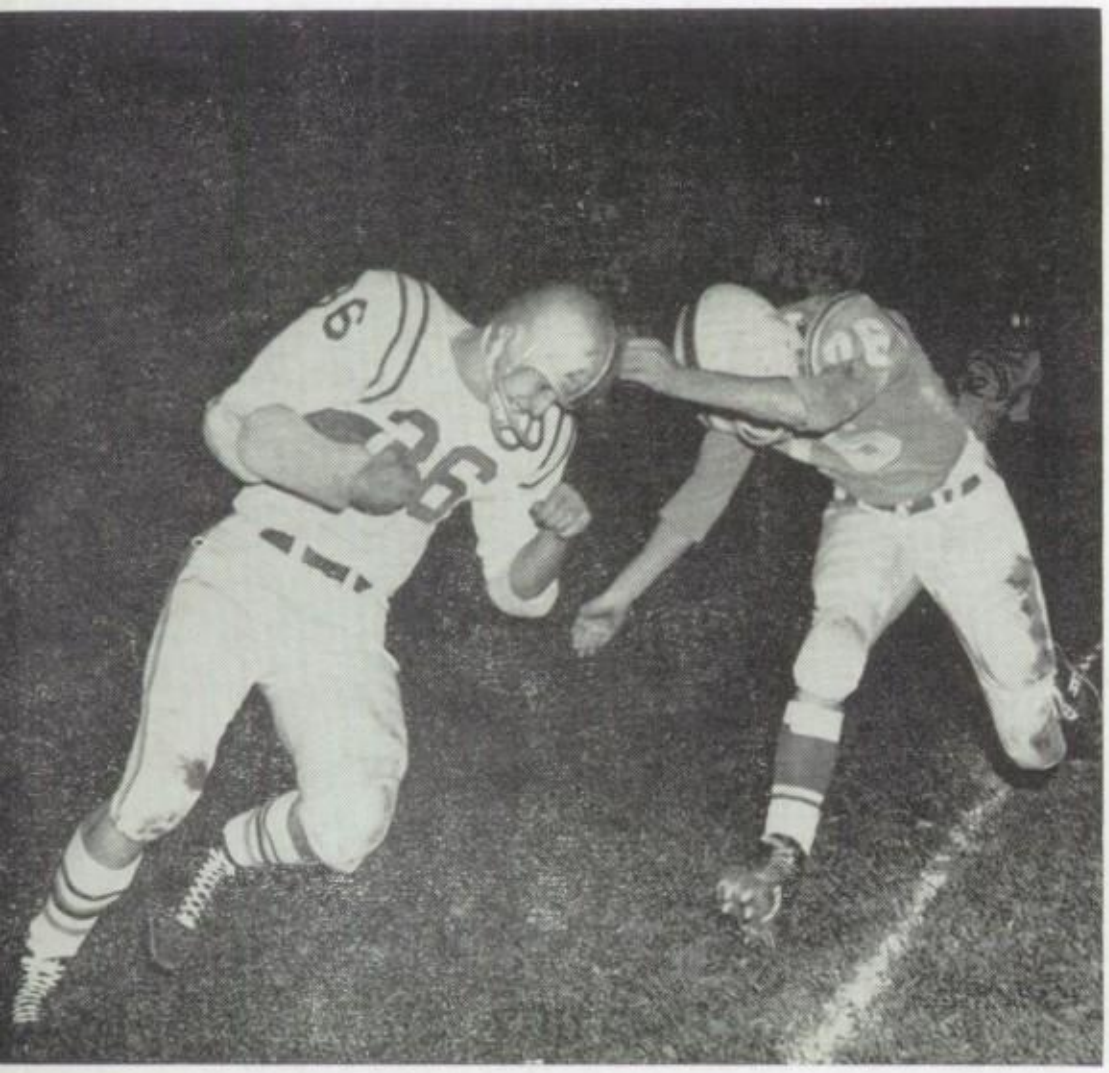
Salem Jayvee Pigskinners Promise Bright



Chalking up a record of three wins and one tie, the Quaker reserves gave a promising preview of next year's varsity.

After tying the East Palestine Bulldogs 16-16 in the opener, the junior Quakers whipped Minerva 22-0. Wellsville was the next team to fall 26-12. The JVs then squeaked by Boardman 8-6 in the season's last tilt.

Quarterback Bill Beery was high scorer for the season with 28 points. Halfback Dave Edling's 22 points ranked him second, and fullback Fred Kaiser was third with 18 markers.

GOING WIDE around end, Salem's pile-driving fullback Ron Janovec picks up all-important yardage before being pulled down by a Potter gridder.

Prize-Winning Squad

Masterminding the intricate plays of a grid game takes experience, and the 1960 Mortonmen had it in the form of 27 varsity letterwinners and 25 footballers who copped reserve awards.

Twenty seniors attained varsity laurels, while three juniors achieved the letterman rank. Bill Beery was the lone sophomore to receive a letter.

Co-captain and end Don Davidson accepted two trophies for his all-around fine play. The first was the prized Boosters Club Most Valuable Lineman award; the second was a special memento for receiving All-Ohio honors.

The fourth annual Most Valuable Player trophy presented by the Salem News was handed to Ron Janovec, Salem's top scorer and fullback.

Maintaining the highest scholastic average in his four years of high school was center Fred Flory, who received the K of C award.

Co-captains Fred Harshman and Don Davidson, along with Ron Janovec, were Quakertown's All-County grid representatives.

Cabas Cagers Cop Victories in School's

Facing what was generally considered to be the toughest schedule in the history of the school, this year's Quaker roundballers proved they were equal to the task by posting a 17-5 record.

With Don Davidson the only returning letterman Coach John Cabas did an admirable job with an inexperienced varsity.

The cagers started off the season in a shaky manner, dropping two of their first three games. In the opener the Cabasmen lost an overtime tilt to Columbus East 65-63. Two games later they were soundly beaten by a powerful Akron Central quintet 73-50. After this game the Quakers stretched a string of 11 victories in a row before being halted by a fired-up East Liverpool five. In the final game of the regular campaign the locals lost a heartbreaker to Dayton Roosevelt, defending state champions, 69-66.

A hard-won victory over Struthers came in the finals of the sectional tourney, paving the way to district competition in Youngstown.

The Warren Panthers seem to have a tournament jinx over the Quakers, defeating them for the second straight year in the district finals.

Captain Don Davidson dominated the statistics, topping his teammates in both scoring and rebounding. He scored 389 points and grabbed off 233 rebounds.

Bill Beery, the Quaker sophomore sensation, was the second leading scorer with 281 points, just edging out Bob Eskay who canned 279 markers. Ted Thorne was second to Davidson in rebounds, getting 217. Tod Couchie, Duane McClaskey, John Borrelli, Allen Ewing, and Gary Jeffries all saw considerable varsity action.

Prospects for next year are bright.

With evenly divided individual scoring records the 1960-61 Quaker reserve squad rolled to an impressive 17-1 slate.

Gary Jeffries, a five-foot, eight-inch guard; five-foot, ten-inch Al Ewing; John Borrelli, a five-foot, nine-incher; six-foot Sam Watson, and 6-4 Bob King each held top scoring honors at least twice in the little locals' frays.

Opening with a 59-40 win over Youngstown Ursuline on Dec. 9, the Karl Zellers-coached squad gained experience in tilt after tilt. The Junior Quakers won eight games by 30 points or more and carded 15 victories by 15 tallies.

In team scoring the Jayvees outdid their foes 1103-693 for an average per game of 61.28 to the out-of-towners' 38.5 markers per fray.

The lone defeat came at the hands of a rough Akron Central Wildcat five Dec. 17, 42-51. The Quakers were an even match for the Cats for three quarters, but a fourth-quarter rally finally put the wraps on the locals' loss.

Paving their way to the state meet, the cindermen trounced Sandy Valley, Louisville, Ravenna, Girard, Cardinal Mooney, Beaver Local, and United Local by more than 100 points each.

WITH A NEVER-ENDING flow of enthusiasm and Quaker spirit Capt. Rosemarie Shoe leads the varsity cheerleaders through many long hours of perfecting practice sessions.

Twirlers Spark Halves

With peppy perfection, the drum major, majorettes, and cheerleaders added to the thrills and memories of this year's sports seasons.

High-stepping Jay Albright led the band skillfully through many intricate routines, while the spunky majorettes brightened every halftime performance, twirling hoops, fire batons, and flags with uncanny coordination. In addition to their activities on the field, they all play instruments in the concert band.

Love those Quaker cheerleaders for having kept the spirit of SHS and its players high and sportsmanlike. Aside from their long hours of practice, they produced spirited pep assemblies.

Rosemarie Shoe and Martha Talbott, varsity and reserve captains, along with Joyce Mallery and Bonnie Schuster, gained new skills and ideas last summer when they attended the All-American cheerleading camp in Michigan for a week.

RESERVE CHEERLEADERS — Agnes Kolozsi, Donna Kilmer, Cheryl Mlinarcik, Jackie Jones, Brenda Smith, Martha Talbott.

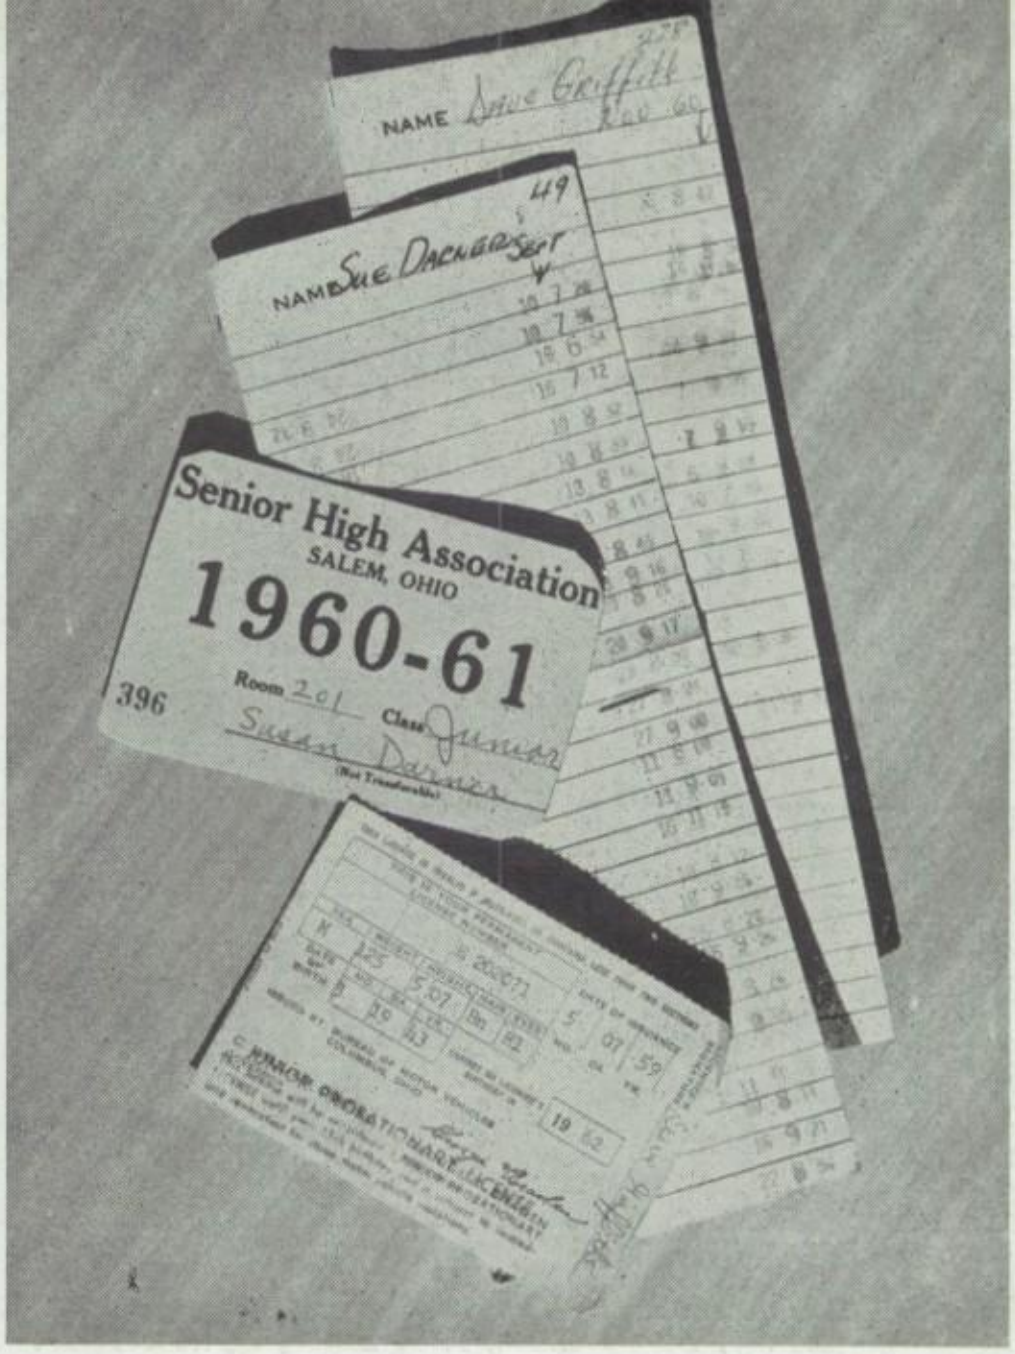
Drum Major

MAJORETTES — Sue White, Lorraine Pardee, Sydney Johnson, Linda Whipkey, Sue Mathews.



Student Life

Excellence pays off for winners of Betty Crocker,

TUNEFUL TALENT resulted in monetary awards for 1960 Marie Burns Contest winners Lorraine Pardee, Carol Murphy, Peggy Gross, Rick Shoop, and Sandy Dodge.

BONING UP on current events are seniors Carolyn Gordon and Martha Talbott as they prepare for a weekend at the World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati. The girls were chosen by the Rotary Club after taking a test.

MAESTRO KATHY CAMERON, alias Mr. Howard Pardee, learned the trials of directing the band as she took over this duty on Student Teachers' Day.

Burns, Brooks contests

FUTURE HOMEMAKER of the Year Sydney Johnson gets ready to whip up one of her blue-ribbon cherry pies. She was named second-best cherry pie-baker in Columbiana County.

RE-CHECKING ASSIGNMENTS made to various area speakers, co-chairmen Ken Pinkerton and Karen Trombitas prepare for the annual Vocations Day designed to acquaint students with possible professions.

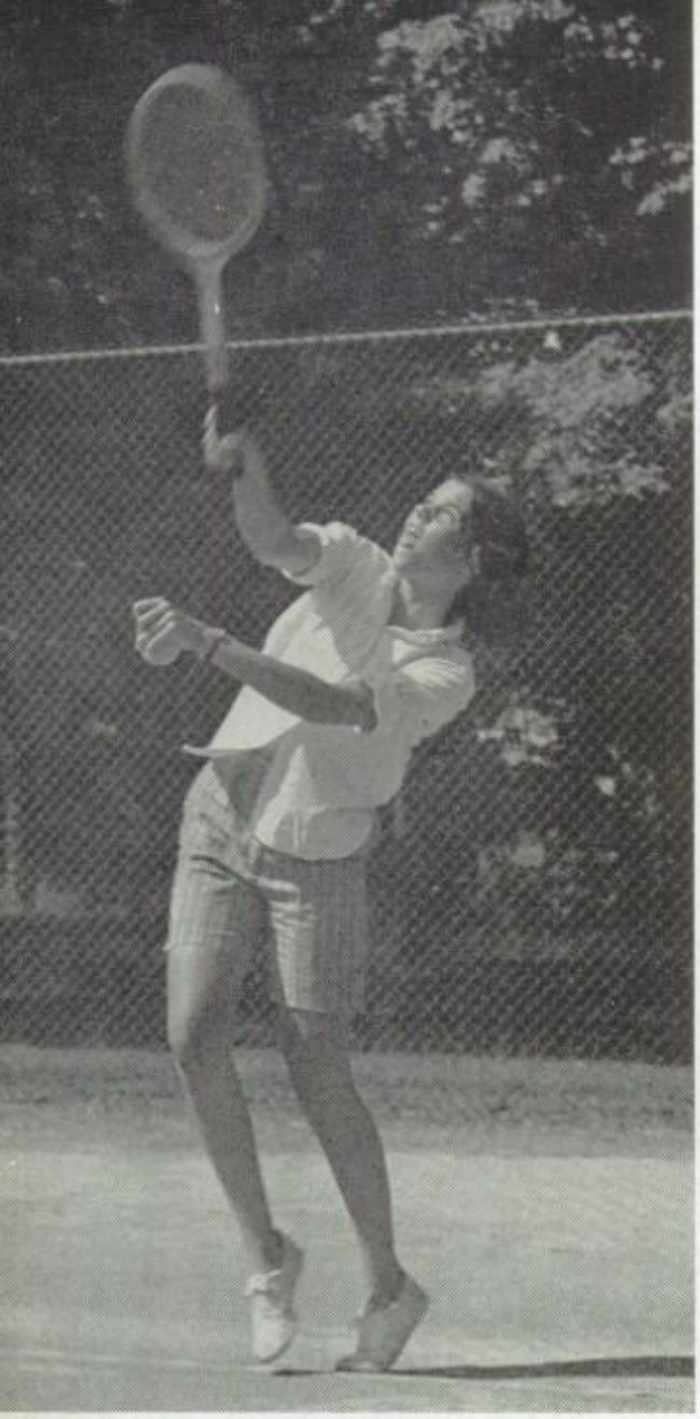
Ever-lively Quakers concentrate,



FOLLOWING through one of her championship serves is soph Judy Cope, winner of the 1960 Youngstown City Tournament, women's division, and an Ohio State Hardcourt Championship.

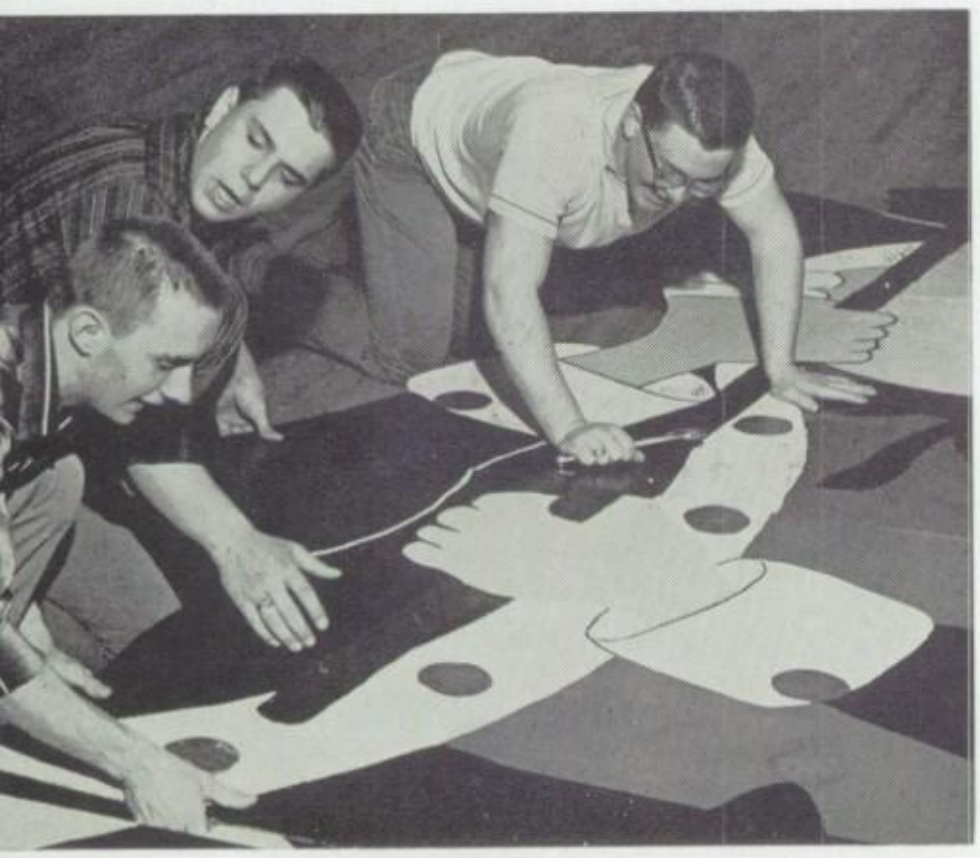
READY FOR the kill is ping-ponger Rick Sulea (right) as Jan Kaiser stands ready to fight off stray balls. The game room at the canteen is a good outlet for pent-up energy three times a week.

TAKING ADVANTAGE of the temporarily missing glass panel in the main office, laughing, leaping sophomore Judy Davidson makes a flying exit.

recreate, decorate

STRRRIKE! hopes senior Mary Lindner as she aims accurately for the tenpin. The GAA-formed bowling league offered SHS girls an opportunity outside of gym classes to keep in tip-top physical shape.

KEY CLUBBERS Bob Oswald, Dave Edling, Tyrone Enders, and Fred Kaiser doctor up Sam, the Quaker Man, readying him to reign over the Salem basketball court as the symbol of spirit and sportsmanship.



WITH RED AND BLACK streamers, ladders, and lots of scotch tape and staples creative SHSers turn the cafeteria into an attractive dance floor for the coming record hop.

McCarthy COST CUTTING DRILLS BLAST HOLE DRILLS

TRUCK-MOUNTED HORIZONTAL

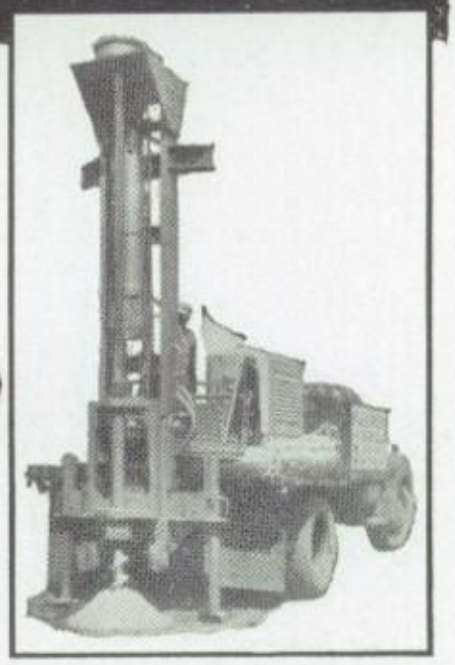
● Satisfied customer reports, "I drill so many more feet per minute with my McCarthy than I did with my old jet rig that I quickly recovered the low initial purchase cost."

VERTICAL DRILL

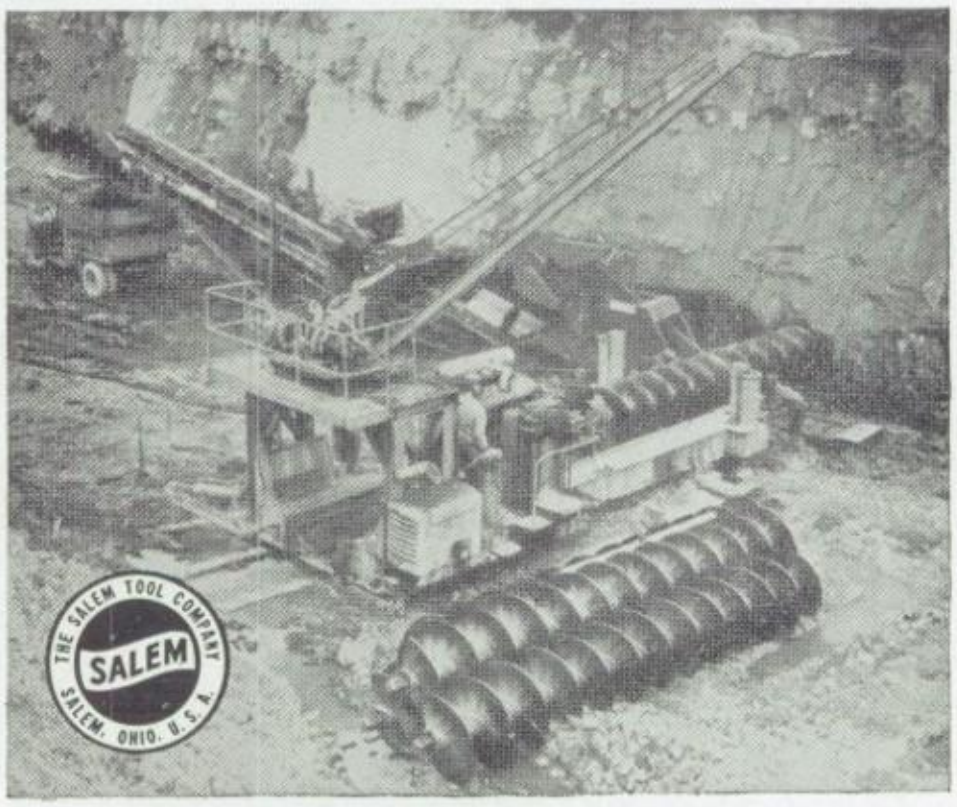
● "Amazing savings," says Owner-Contractor J. F. Nichols. He drilled six-foot-deep blast holes in 40 seconds each as against 30 minutes each with wagon drills, claims savings of $7500 per month. "Greatest purchase I ever made," says Nichols.

SELF-PROPELLED HORIZONTAL

● A New Castle, Pa., operator reports boring "840,' various depth holes through shale and sandstone, in one working day." Bores 6" and 8" diameter holes at rate of 6' per minute maximum.



Heavy Rugged Powerful



COAL RECOVERY DRILL

● Robert B. Cleghorn, Jr., Hodgeville, West Virginia, reports his hydraulical, self-moving 42" McCarthy Coal Recovery Drill mines "up to 500 tons of clean, low-cost quality coal per day." Cleghorn has a three-man crew—operates in pits as narrow as 34 feet. Operator has total vision, including the highwall. Model 12 handles 24' augers from 16" to 48" in diameter.

● Other McCarthy Coal Recovery Drills handle augers 4', 6' and 12' in length.

THE LYLE PRINTING CO., SALEM, OHIO

Thanks

Early in the summer of 1960 we started to plan the 1961 yearbook. Then it was just a book of blocks and lines signifying pictures and copy. Now it is a book of pictures and copy signifying memories of this school year. Our own memories of all the chaos we encountered and the people who shared these hectic moments with us are preserved in this book, too.

The publication of our yearbook was not the effort of a few, but the combined efforts of many to whom we are very grateful—the faculty and administration, the secretaries, the custodians, our staff, Mr. Burchfield, Troup and Pluto Co., Lyle Printing Co., S. K. Smith Co., the Youngstown Arc Engraving Co. To Mrs. Loop we owe a special thanks, not only for her advice about the book, but also for her understanding and patience.

KAREN and LORRAINE

To Diane,

I have bothered you pestered you and I don't know what all I have done to irritate I guess now that seems to be in the past and I can try to mend my ways and be a friend. All I know now is that happiness can't come from holding a grudge against someone, especially you. As a sophomore you have become one of the S.H.S. citizens and will have inherited the S.H.S. responsibility of being a true person which I have filled whole-heartedly. I feel hope you have S.H.S. in the coming two years and that next year a statue will not hurt a friendship I wish you all the luck you deserve, just take care and stay the same wonderful person that I have thought and your Diane

If interruption and goodness that you will really be like still think

God Bless
Dave Sherrow

Diane
But of luck in all your do, and don't forget the good times we had in 4C study hall. Take it easy but have fun.

Best of Luck
in the things that you do.

To Sandy, I wish you a real swell and smiling ahead with anything girl with a laugh and sunny cute laugh in the future.
best of luck in the future
you also. Love ya.
